

IN CHARGE OF MURDER

Two Unfortunates to Be Arraigned Today.

M. SHOCKLEY, J. H. WADE

Charged With Murder in the First Degree.

Shockley Expected to Make a Hard Fight for Life Sentence—Wade Killed a Chinaman in Alta.

M. Shockley and J. H. Wade, both charged with murder in the first degree, will be arraigned in the District court at 10 o'clock this morning and will be charged with the information against them. Both prisoners are now incarcerated in the county jail, having been taken to District court without bail. Shockley, the confessed murderer of the woman Gleason and Brighton, will be charged with the charge, and it is understood that he will make a hard fight to save his life. His defense is undoubtedly that he shot Gleason accidentally and Brighton in self-defense. It will be up to the jury to decide whether or not a man can shoot another accidentally or in defending himself when he has tried to hold him up. Wade is charged with having shot a Chinaman at Alta. The testimony in the preliminary hearing went to show that the defendant was not justified in taking the Chinaman's life. He said to be a crack shot with a revolver and not at all backward in his aim.

COURT KIND TO BROWN.

Will Have a Continuance Until February 10th.

In the case of the State vs. Arthur Brown, charged with adultery, came up for trial in the District court yesterday and the court for the defendant to enter his plea. The information was continued until February 10, 1904. The continuance was granted by the court on the motion of defendant. District Attorney Eichenlaub, who appeared for the State, stated that he was making his motion that he had been told by Chief Justice Baskin of the Supreme court for a writ of prohibition. He stated that Justice Baskin had refused to issue the writ, taking ground that it was a matter that the court should decide upon. But the defendant will make application to the Supreme court for the writ on January 28, when the court is in session and be ready to make his plea on the 30th of the month. The writ will be granted for this ground that the District court has no jurisdiction by reason of irregularities alleged to have been committed in the lower court. Brown, accompanied by his attorney, Judge J. H. Brown, handled his case himself.

"HELLO BILL" IN COURT.

Asks for Damages for Breach of Contract.

Frank Mostyn Kelly brought an action for damages in the civil division of the City court yesterday against John & Kellogg, managers of the "Hello Bill" company. The plaintiff alleged that he and the defendants entered into an agreement whereby he was to receive $50 per week and all expenses for his services as an actor and that a written notice would have to be given to the party for the termination of the contract. The plaintiff alleged that no notice was given to him by the defendants previous to letting him out of the 16th inst., and asks for damages the sum of $200.

UNCLE SAM A WINNER.

Decision Against Frank Hepler Is Sustained.

The Government was sustained in the suit court in the case of the United States vs. Frank Hepler, who was charged by Forest Supervisor C. T. Smith with grazing a band of 3000 sheep on Fish Lake forest reserve. Hepler denied that he was simply watering sheep and not grazing them, but the court took a different view and ordered him to pay costs.

TOM CHANGED HIS PLEA.

Soldier O'Donnell Gets Eighteen Months in Jail.

Tom O'Donnell, the ex-soldier charged with burglarizing the Twenty-third Ward Co-op store on December 29, 1903, changed his plea to guilty in his case came up for trial in the District court yesterday and was sentenced by Judge Morse to eighteen months in the State penitentiary. When O'Donnell entered a plea of not guilty, when his case was called yesterday, attorney stated that his client desired to change his plea.

Dislocated Her Shoulder.

Miss Johanna Soderholm of Ferguson, Minn., fell and dislocated her right shoulder. She had a surgeon get it back in place as soon as possible, but it was sore and pained her very much. Her mother mentioned that she had seen Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised for rheumatism and soreness, and she asked him to try a bottle of it, which he did. It quickly relieved her and enabled her to sleep, which she had not done for several days. The son was so much relieved with the relief it gave his mother that he has since recommended many others. For sale by all druggists.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

New York, Jan. 17.—Red gowns of all possible shades of the color, of every material known, are tremendously popular, and the oft-repeated assertion that red is not fashionable this winter seems to have no effect whatever upon the general public. Entire costumes of red for street wear, with hat to match, dinner gowns of satin velvet, ball gowns of crepe de chine, chiffon or gauze, are one and all effective and, as a rule, becoming. Then there are the red hats with black, brown or blue gowns, and for the evening one of the fads is to wear a black angled gown without a touch of color to relieve it, and then in the hair two stiff red quills, and also to wear red satin slippers with silk stockings matching exactly the shade of red.

For the street both the rough and smooth cloths are fashionable. Zibeline in many different qualities, with just a touch of white or covered with long white hairs is thought very smart and is trimmed with braid of the same color. Mixed effects on the cheviot order and bearing a close resemblance to the albelines are also fashionable and are much less shaggy and heavy in appearance. These are made up or should be made quite simply, with skirts and coats, the latter long or short, as the case may be, trimmed with braid to match, and with velvet collar and cuffs. The velvet combined with these rough materials is always effective and makes the gown look more finished and rather more elaborate. Following the general trend of an over-laboration of trimming this season, there have been some models for the zibeline and chevies, that are most elaborately trimmed with white satin linings, lace, fur and a touch of some absolutely diverse color in pale blue, yellow, or most daring of all, pink. Of course, such a combination of fabrics and colors requires the greatest skill and taste not to be garish or vulgar, and the fashion is not one to be generally recommended or rashly copied.

Red crepe de chine or chiffon evening gowns are decidedly daring as regards the color scheme, for the most brilliant shade of red is chosen. The skirt is either flounced or close about the foot. The waist is cut low and trimmed with a deep fringe the color of the gown, and the sleeves are a tulle, merely a piece of the tulle tied around the arm and finished with a bow and a narrow band of the crepe de chine over the shoulder, covered with a narrow fringe. The tucked crepe de chine gowns are decidedly new, and one model has each tucked finished with the narrowest of fringe, but the looks are so near together that the whole skirt looks as though made of fringe.

York university students living in Gould hall, one of the most promising young men in the institution has been suspended and asked not to appear on the university grounds pending an investigation by the chancellor and faculty into the charges made by his fellow students.

The name of the young man is being guarded carefully by the faculty. As the articles disappeared from locked rooms, and as the thefts have been confined to a single corridor, the students made up their minds that the robberies were being committed by some student lodger in the hall, who had provided himself with pass keys to the various rooms. Quiet investigation ensued and at last suspicion centered upon a man whose integrity had never before been questioned. His reputation in the university has always been of the highest, and he had been known as the most brilliant man of his class.

The facts were placed before the faculty and the accused was asked to remain at his home pending a hearing. No legal steps will be taken, however, and the university authorities say every effort will be made to redeem the man.

DEAD MEN WARN LIVING

Hospital Reports Prove That Dyspepsia is the Forerunner of Consumption.

Post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that many cases of consumption are due to uninterrupted progress of dyspepsia.

Especially is this true in cases where the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Therefore the person who allows dyspeptic conditions to progress unchecked is contributing toward the development of the most fatal disease known to mankind.

HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE.

I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for several years and it reached such a stage that I could hold nothing on my stomach, and immediately after eating even the lightest foods would be taken with a violent fit of vomiting. I tried a great many remedies, but nothing helped me until I procured a box of Resall Dyspepsia Tablets, when I obtained instant relief. I am now able to eat heavy foods and I gladly recommend the Resall Tablets to anyone suffering as I did.—J. P. Turner, 25 Howard street, Detroit, Mich.

Don't take any chances. Cure your dyspepsia at once. Resall Dyspepsia Tablets will do it. We know what they will do for you, and we guarantee them to restore health, strength and a good digestion. Prices 25 cents. Only at our store or by mail.
